DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
 - I. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and using spin-valve structure as a sensing-element for contactless position, distance and movement sensing;
 - II. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and using spin-valve structure as a sensing-element for angular position sensing;
 - III. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and using spin-valve structure to indirectly measure physical parameters through a change in resistance of the multilayer structure;
 - IV. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and using spin-valve structure as a magnetic device in a magnetic memory circuit for building a magnetic random access memory;
 - V. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and using spin-valve structure as an element of a logic gate in a logic device; and,
 - VI. a method of electrodepositing a spin-valve structure and applying a voltage over an insulating barrier layer of the spin-valve structure allowing currents to cross said insulating barrier layer.
2. The species are independent or distinct because: Inventions I-VI are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions I-VI as claimed each have a materially different mode of operation, i.e., device is used in a different function, do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 37 is generic.

5. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

6. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).
